anden-Bidney-Sectory Celebrations-De. tapon's Address-The Degrees and the dols.

HAMPDEN-SIDNEY, June 11. HAMPDEN-SIDNEY, June 11.
On Tuesday night the Union Society held its anniversary celebration in College church. Rev. Dr. Hannon presided, and introduced the speakers according to the following programme:
P. H. Gwinn, West Virginia, junior orator. Subject, "The Difficulty in Realizing the Ideal."

Presentation of Senior Orator's medal

Presentation of Senior Orator's medal te S. P. Preston. Virginia, through W. Adams, Jr., Virginia.

Presentation of Freshman Declaimer's med-il to A. B. Coleman, Virginia, medd to A. B. Coleman, Virginia, through the presiding officer.

H. T. Graham, Virginia, junior ora-tor—subject, "Capital Punishment."

Presentation of Junior Debater's medal to P. H. Gwinn, West Virginia, through F. T. McFaden, West Virginia.

Final Orator, W. S. Friend, Virginia—subject, "What Ireland Needs."

Music was interspersed between the speeches, and the marshals were compelled to take many steps in conveying floral offerings from the audience to the speakers.

On Wednesday morning at 12 o'clock
Rev. John Hannon, D. D., of Lynch-burg, the selected representative of the two literary societies, was escorted by the marshals to the stage, and there proceeded to deliver his oration. The theme selected was "The Philosophy of Roads." After various illustrations of the idea intended to be conveyed by his theme, and reference to roads of science, roads of philosophy, roads of theology, &c., all of which were introduced and discussed with the enliven-ment of wit and anecdote, he made special application of the subject to several roads which ought to be travelled. One of these roads was the "Road of Matrimony," which the speaker seemed to know a good deal about theoretically, but upon which, he confessed, he had not yet entered himself. The closing one was "Individuality." The address was unique and outre. The speaker got out of the ordinary ruts of such oc-casions, and travelled a new "Commencement Road."

On Wednesday afternoon the two literary societies held their usual annual meetings, at which many of the trustees were present.
At night the Philanthropic celebration took place. Rev. J. F. Latimer, D. D., presided, and introduced the D. presided, and introduced the following speakers:

H. A. White, first junior orator,
West Virginia—subject, "The West."

Presentation of senior medal by H.

R. McIlwaine, Virginia, to J. B. Finley, West Virginia.

Presentation of freshman medal by presiding officer to P. S. Wood, Texas.

T. S. Henry, Virginia, second junior erator-subject, "Progress." Presentation of sophomore medal by the presiding officer to W. M. Eldridge, Virginia. R. M. Hall, Texas, final oratorsubject, "Fact and Fiction."

Thursday morning a very large as-semblage of people of the community and strangers were present to witness the graduating exercises. The president of the college first announced that the Board of Trustees had conferred the following degrees: That of B. A. upon C. H. Wissner, Fredericksburg, Va., first honor; W. S. Friend, Charlotte county, Va., second honor; H. R. Mc-Ilwaine, Petersburg, Va., third honor; J. W. Adams, Jr., Fredericksburg, Va.; R. M. Hall, Gonzales, Texas; C. H. Lee, Jr., Clarke county, Va.; S. degree of A. M., as follows: A. A. Campbell, Wytheville, Va., class of 1879; T. P. Campbell, Wytheville,

Corsicana, Texas, class of 1883. The president announced a long list of distinctions at this point of the proceedings, and then Professor W. S. Currell, M. A., Ph. D., professor of English, Logic, and Political Economy, made an address explanatory of the offer of a prize to the best Shaksperian scholar. After historical detail of the matter and of the manner in which the decision was made, Professor Currell bestowed the prize (a handsome copy of the works of Shakspeare) upon Mr. Charles A. Lee, Jr., of Clarke county,

Then followed addresses by the graduating class : W. S. Friend, Charlotte county, Va., Latin salutatory; H. R. McIlwaine, Petersburg, Va., philoso-phical oration—subject, "The Higher Imagination"; J. W. Adams, Fredericksburg, Va., "We of To-Day"; C. H. Lee, Jr., Clarke county, Va., "The Future of the Turk"; S. P. Preston, Lynchburg, Va., "John Bright"; Joseph Rennie, Richmond, Va., "The Present the Legacy of the Past"; C. H. Wissner, Fredericksburg, Va., valedictory.

After the speeches of the young men, at the request of the president, Dr. M. Hoge made a closing address to the senior class, and the president, in a few words, presented diplomas to the graduates. So ended the one hundred and with section of this reached in the section of the section of the reached in the section of the section of the reached in the section of the sec ninth session of this venerable institution, with bright hopes for the future.

PETERSBURG, VA., June 12, 1885. It is understood that Mr. George Schanck, who has long held a position in the internal-revenue office in this city, will be retained by Mr. Ellett because of his long experience and tho-rough familiarity with the running of the department. It is not likely that any changes will be made in the office until after the close of the fiscal year (June 30th). Mr. Schanck will proba-bly go to Richmond when the headquarters of the district are removed to that city. It is thought that the number of employes kept on duty here af-ter the removal of headquarters will be very small.

It is furthermore reported that the office of tobacco inspector—the best in the district—will be filled by direct appointment of the Secretary of the Treasury. There are about half a dozen applicants for this office in Petersburg.

Public-school pic-nics, and examinations of public-school teachers and scholars, and teachers' institutes are the next order of the day in town and country, and men of experience and talent as speakers, as well as the young graduate and the lawyer of one or two years, come forth to see and to speak to the people. The consequence of this course year after year is that the schools are numerously attended, and more young men and young ladies attend college from this county in proportion to population than attend from coun-ties where such proceedings are not the order of the day in due season. MR. OLIVE HARDMAN, an old resident of Walton country, and a lady of culture and prominence, has this to say of the treatment of the appointment of this officer. Sometimes the appointment of this officer. Sometimes the appointment has been made upon recommendation of the collector, and sometimes in the face of it. When Mr. Van Auken, the present incumbent, was appointed it was done is opposition to the recommendation of Collector Richards. The pay of the inspector comes entirely out of the pockets of the tobacconists, and not one penny out of the United States Treasury.

The collector's office here will be closed to all business to-morrow, in order that all the requisite arrangements may be completed for the surrender of the office, books, &c., to Collector Elet, who will take charge on Monday.

THE FIRST-CLASS FOUR-STORY IRON-FRONT BRICK STORE TENE-MENT NO. 8 SOUTH FOURTEENTH STREET, BETWEEN MAIN AND CARY STREETS, AT AUCTION.—On WEDNESDAY, JUNE 17, 1885, at 1 o'clock P. M., we will sell, upon the premises, the VERY VALUABLE NEW BUILDING situated as above, occupied below by John Adam, Esq. The basement is dry, the store spacious and light, and the rooms above, eighteen in number, are well arranged, high-pitched, and airy.

There is gas throughout the house, water and closets on every floor, bath-room, and every other convenience that could be desired in such property.

The building was erected in 1866 by Messrs, John & George Gibson in their best style, and nothing was omitted to make it in every respect a thoroughly first-class property.

The walls are substantial, the timbers of mevery respect a thoroughly historias property.

The walls are substantial, the timbers of the best that could be procured, the iron front, caps, and sills of the most approved and ornamental patterns, the glass of the best double French plate, and every other item and detail of construction is in perfect order.

This is probably as nearly a fire-proof building as there is in the city, and is being sold only because the owner is a non-resident and cannot give his personal attention to the same.

and cannot give his personal attention to the same.
We invite the especial attention of capitalists seeking a substantial investment to this sale, as the property is situated on one of the most prominent business streets in the city, within a few steps of Main street, and will always command first-class tenants at a rent yielding a good return for the investment.
TERMS: One fourth cash; balance, secured by trust-deed, in payments of one, two, and three years, interest added, and payable
